

ENOGEA

di Alessandro Masnaghetti

BEST YOUNG PRODUCER FROM ROERO

Write down this address without hesitation. It's the address of two outsiders who sooner or later will become well-known: Davide and Daniele Pelassa, who live in the quietness and calm of Borgata Tucci, surrounded by woods and huge farmhouses. These brothers have made wine for approximately ten years from the grapes they grow in their vineyards in San Vito, Gianoli and on the hill next to their winery. In the last vintages this estate has dramatically improved the quality of their wines, always more and more defined, complete and able to compete with the best of the best in their appellation.

Above all, however, it's the standard of high quality in all their portfolio which deserves attention. You can move confidently through the wines of this producer, starting with the Roero Arneis, full-bodied and with aromatic notes. Their San Vito 2008 is more complex and structured, and their entry level wine is fresh and more linear. Their Roero Antaniolo 2006 is able to beat most competing wines in its category thanks to its excellent tannic extraction which enhances the full-bodied fiber of its terroir. Also their Nebbiolo d'Alba 2006 is tempting, mouth-watering and determined, and their Barbera Tucci 2005 is full of character and more evolved, complete in terms of its grace and attention in details.
